DECISION AND ORDER

On September 4, 1981, the Public Employment Relations Board issued its Order No. Ad-114-H, directing the chief administrative law judge to defer the commencement of hearings on exclusions of managerial, supervisory and confidential employees of the University of California from representation units until after issuance of the hearing officers' recommendations as to appropriate units for employees of the University. Those recommendations having now been issued and served on all the parties, the Board now ORDERS:

1. The matter of the determination of appropriate units of employees of the University of California is remanded to the chief administrative law judge for hearings on the following:

- a. The appropriate unit placement of residents and interns; and
- b. exclusionary issues, including questions of managerial, supervisory, confidential or casual status or status as a student as defined in section 3562(f), except that no evidence is to be taken on the employee-student status of residents and interns.

2. The matter of the unit placement of interns and residents shall be given priority.

3. At the conclusion of that portion of the hearings concerning the unit placement of interns and residents, including time for submission of briefs by the parties, the chief administrative law judge shall submit the record of such hearings together with the parties' briefs directly to the Board itself for final disposition.

4. At the conclusion of the exclusionary hearings, the chief administrative law judge shall submit the record, including the parties' briefs, directly to the Board for final disposition.
